2025 Visitors Guide is underway!

The 2025 Whitley County Visitors Guide is officially underway, and we're thrilled to invite you to be part of this year's publication! Launching mid-February, the guide is a vital resource for showcasing all that our community has to offer—from local businesses and events to the unique experiences that make Whitley County a destination worth exploring.

This year, our theme is "Do Life Better"—a reminder of the simple joys, meaningful connections, and the high quality of life our county embodies. By sponsoring an ad, you'll not only gain valuable exposure from the 1,500+ copies distributed, but also support the guide's mission of attracting visitors, welcoming new residents, and driving local economic growth.

Eagle Glen Golf Course Seeking Help with 30th Anniversary Project

COLUMBIA CITY — During this period of holiday reflection, Eagle Glen Golf Course is asking present and past Eagle Glen Golf Course players to submit memories and photos about their Eagle Glen experiences. The information will be used for an Eagle Glen's 30th Anniversary feature memory compilation during the spring of 2025.

"We are looking for golfing quotes, photos and remembrances about your Eagle Glen experiences," explained Rick Sholund, partner and general manager at the golf course. "These can be from recent years or from decades past."

Examples can be fun stories about your foursome, memorable events, incredible shots, weird shots, encounters with wildlife, weather . . . you name it, Sholund said.

"Aces, eagles, double-eagles, great recovery shots and more are examples. Beloved golf foursomes past and present and their stories are perfect too. We want to hear it all!"

Sholund added that memories should be as specific as possible, with dates (or approximates) and names (correct spellings). Hole locations, time of day, seasons are other examples. The same goes for submitted photos.

Submit your Eagle Glen memories and photos digitally to:
eagleglengolfclub@gmail.com

Please use the subject line: Memories

You may mail original photos and information also, and the golf course will return the photos when requested.

Mail by U.S. Postal Service to:

Memories
Eagle Glen Golf Course
129 S. Eagle Glen Trail
Columbia City, IN 46725

"We thank all in advance for helping us with this fun project that is sure to be a wonderful compilation of memories about the game and golf course that we all love," Sholund said.
